AMUSEMENTS TO-NIGHT. GROVER'S THEATER-This evening, benefit of Vestvali, the magnificent, when she will appear for the last time but one in her original rendition of "Captain Henri de Lagardere," in the grand romantic drama of "The Duke's Motto; I a Here." In preparation "Gamea;

or, The Hebrew Fortune Teller." FORD'S THEATER.-Mrs. D. P. Bowers, the distinguished American actress, this evening receives a benefit at Ford's, when she will appear in her great character of "Camille," in which she is said to be without an equal. A splendid bill of both tragedy and comedy is in store for to morrow evening. OXFORD HALL.-Miss Agnes Sutherland, the queen of song, is still delighting large audiences with her excellent voice, and will sing some of her choicest pices this evening. All of the hest of actors are good, and if you wish to spend a delightful evening you have but to go to Gxford Hall.

CANTERBURY HALL.—The infant wonders, Masters Tommy and Wally, are still at the Canterbury. They are said to be the smallest Ethiopian comedians in the world. The roaring farce of the "Two Gregories" will be produced in excellent style this evening. To-morrew afternoon, a matinee for ladies and chil-

THE CASE OF DR. KEASBY .- The trial of Dr. J. B. Keasby, surgeon to the Board of Euroliment of this District, charged with being engaged in procuring substitutes contrary to the act of Congress, with willful neglect to make faithful examinations and true reports of persons presenting themselves for substitutes and recruits, and for conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline, was resumed yesterday at 1 o'clock, when the following evidence was given in:

Captain J. C. Putnam, Provost Marshal, was sworn, and testified .- He had with him the record of the draft of September, 1864, and referred to pages 26 and 27, and read, "No. 82. E. S. Butts, 384 New York avenue, accepted: substitute furnished 10th of October, 1861; witness then showed the record book of persons examined; on page six of the book was the name of Peter Alexander, accepted as subst"tute for Edwin G. Butts; neither of these were in the handwriting of the accused; the two books form a part of the records of the office; witness said the above was a complete record of the cases as far as appeared on the

Captain Henry A. Scheetz sworn.-Kesides at Montgomery Square, Montgomery county, Pa.; was appointed Provost Marshal of the District in June, 1863, and was relieved June, 1864; witness referred to page 57 of an office record of instructions to Provest Marshals, dated October 24, 1863; was acquainted with the accused-he was surgeon of the Board of Enrollment; witness was unable to say whether the accused saw the instructions or not; they were in the office and open for inspection at any time; witness gave no orders or privileges to any of the Board to deal in substitutes; he recollects, on one occasion, was out of the office in the morning, and on coming in the office, on information received, was very angry with Dr. Keasby, and told him he had no business to buy substitutes or deal in them, as he had a brother in the business he should come and attend to it himself; this was about the 12th of May; the doctor replied he did not think he was doing wrong; he said he had bought them of Arnold, Mr. Bogden, Ball, and he thinks Mr. Drew or Gibbs, he forgot which, was in the office at the time; the witness then produced a duplicate roll, and stated it was a roll of premiums paid for the acceptance of recruits to bounty fund committees, and read: "May 11, Harry Cox, $35, signed Charles A. Keasby; May 11, No. 13, William Burnside, $25, signed Charles A. Keasby; May 11, Chas. Scott, $2, signed Chas. Keasby; May 11, Washington Tait, $25, Chas. A. Keasby; May 17, John Tolliver, $2, Chas. A. Keasby; the above are all colored men; "C. K.," which appears after the signature of Chas. A. Keasby, he thought was the hand-writing of the accused; does not know what the letters mean; on roll of 12th May was the words "colored recruits to be credited to the fourth Congressional District of Massachusetts and on which appeared the follow-"May 12, Joseph Smith, $25, A. O. Ball, for H. H. Dudley; fifth Massachussetts colored eavalry; H. A. in the margin; [a number of like entries were read by the witness from the same rell, all credited to the same parties, and for the same State 1

By Defense :- Witness was allowed by permit of the provost marshal to recruit for the State of Massachusetts: thought the letters "C. K." were Dr. Keasby's, because he had been in the habit of signing for his brother; thought the accused must have seen the instructions, as the manner of paying premiums was there set forth; Mr. Ball was a clerk in the office under witness; witness said the money was paid by him to Dudley for the men Arnold brought to him, as appeared on the second roll referred to; witness had the authority to appoint recruiting agents; thinks the accused was appointed surgeon with the rank and pay of a lieutenant of cavairy. By the Judge Advocate:-State under what act of Congress the examination and the acceptance or rejection of recruits were made. Objected to by the counsel for the defence. and the court was cleared On reopening the Court announced the objection sustained.

By Defense :- Witness appointed Charles A. Keasby a recruiting agent at the request of Surgeon Keasby, and he was confirmed by the Provost Marshal General; never noticed that the accused was very particular in attending to his brother's affairs: he was very anxious always to get his brother's premiums; used to give them to him to carry to his brother: he always got a recruit for his brother when he could; the accused made out nearly all the checks for his brother; he often notified other brokers to appear to get their premiums; all agents were required to have authority from the witness before they could act; accused did not ask for Arnold's money as for his brother to Arnold; accused told witness he had transacted the business of procuring the recruits outside the office; witness generally paid the premiums himself; sometimes he gave the ing agents.

To the Court.—Was acquainted with the handwritings of Charles A. Keasby and Surgeon Keasby; they were so similar could scarcely tell them apart; the letters "H. A.," witness said, stood probably for H. Arnold, as he sold the men to Dudley; witness usually paid the local premiums; thought there was ne more objection to the surgeon paying money for his brother than there was to other members of the Board paying for any other agent; supposed the money paid by the surgeon for his brother was advanced by himself; Massa chusetts was then paying $300 bounty and $25 premium; received the order from the Provost Marshal General to recruit for Massachusetts, and the premium money was advanced by the money to the clerks or Surgeon Keasby, when he was required to be absent, to pay to recruit-

MEETING AT THE UNION LEAGUE ROOMS-The Republican Club to be a Permanent Organ. tration.—Last evening a large number of the Union men of this city assembled at the Union League Rooms, 9th street, in pursuance to the following call: "Attention Union Men!-- A mass Convention of the loyal citizens and residents of this District will be held on to-morrow (Thursday) evening, at 7% o'clock, at Union League Reading Rooms, 9th street. Officers and members of local and State Lincoln and Johnson associations, also members of Union Leagues, are specially requested to be present. Business of great importance to loyal men will be brought forward Lewis Clephane, President

Cent'l Lincoln and Johnson Associat'n, D. C.] J. T. CLEMENTS, Secretary." The meeting was called to order by Mr.

John R. Elvans, and Mr. J. C. Henning, President of the Maryland club, was called to the chair, but subsequently Mr. H. was relieved by Mr. Clephane, President of the Lincoln and Johnson Club. Mr. J. B. Brown was appointed secretary Mr. Clephane stated that at a recent meeting of the executive committee of the club some important measures were proposed for consideration One of them was the propriety of continuing the present organization, another the question of making arrangements for the inauguration ceremonies, another the question of the retention of the room, and another to take measures to report the names of all disloyal persons in office. The executive committee of the Grand National Council of the United States had appointed a committee of three to hunt up and report to the heads of departments the names of all disloyal men in office. The names of this committee will not be made public, but if any one will give him the name of a disloyal officeholder he would lay it before the committee, who would examine the case, and if the charge is sustained will report such person for dismissal; and it is expected that the heads of departments will act promptly.

Mr. Elvans stated that he had been delegated by the national executive committee to offer two resolutions, and he submitted the following:
Resolved, That the executive committee of the Lincoln and Johnson Club, together with a committee of two from each Lincoln and Johnson Club, State organization, and National Union League be instructed and empowered to make all arrangements for the inauguration ceremonies on the 4th of March next.

Mr. Hilton suggested that committees should be appointed from the citizens also. The Chair remarked that all citizens were represented in this or other organizations of the kind. It was well known that when the present administration came into power, there were but few sympathizers with it, and all the arrangements then devolved upon the Republican Association. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Elvans offered the other resolution that the name of the association be changed to th National Union Association, and that it be a permanent association. Mr. Henning objected to the passage in the present shape, for the copperheads would conelder it as a kind of shirking out to drop the name of Lincoln and Johnson, and he preferred that name should be adopted until Mr. Lincoln should serve his full term. Dr. Boyd had no objection to the old name, but hoped that the new name would be adopted. They wanted this organization to be a nucleus for one throughout the land, from Maine to California, and he hope before four years had passed there would be one which a word or tap of the bell or drum would bring out at any moment. The old Democratic party were so organized, but we had them now on the hook, and intended to keep them there; but to do so we must adopt their plan in respect to organization. Lincoln was a good enough name, and as for Andrew Johnson, he was a good man and would mend the tattered garments of the old Republic; but the time had pased when it was necessary to have those

Mr. Elvans said that under the new name all could assemble, and he wished the association in future to be one of loyal men without regard to politics.

The debate was continued by Messrs. J. S. Brown, T. C. Comolly, Hon. W. P. Dole, F. Myers and others, and finally the name of the National Lincoln and Johnson Association was adopted with cheers. The matter of retaining the room as the Union headquarters was brought up and a collection was taken up, yielding about $150, and it was decided that the room be kept and placed in charge of the officers and executive committee the same who had served the Lincoln and Johnson Club.) While the collection was being taken up Mr. O. K Harris, of the Republican, entered the room and informed the President of some news, and Mr. Clephane immediately rose and announced that he had been informed that a boat had arrived at the 6th street wharf with a courier from Sherman, bringing the glorious news that he had captured Savannah and was now in possession, and that his entire loss since he left Atlanta was but 1,500 men! [Loud cheers

Mr. Dole said the ink had not got dry on the Chicago platform before Sherman flanked Atlanta, and he knew then that he would go through. [Applause.] Mr. Clephane stated that in June next an election came off in the city, and a change should be made in the city government, and he hoped that all would see to having their names registered this month, as required by law. Adjourned.

A SHOP MUSS .- On Tuesday afternoon Benjamin Solomon, Aaron Backrack, Jacob Belmonger and Albert Belsaw were arrested by Officer Barker, on the charge of being disorderly. It appears that the abovenamed are clerks in the three clothing stores on 4% street, near D street south, and considerable rivalry exists between the stores, and it seems that the center store has a hard time to get customers. The proprietor, however, throws out his clothes as pickets to catch customers above and below the store, and they are obliged to run the blockade of the others to get them into their store. It appears that a customer was caught on Tues. day, and while being escorted into one of the stores, one of the rivals said, "Lookout for your pocket-book," and this remark caused a row, in which the above took part. On being taken to the 10th precinct station, Justice Handy fined the first named $6.50, he being the greatest talker, and the others $4.50 each.

CHARGE OF SHEEP STEALING .- Yesterday Officer Brewer arrested Daniel Merling upon a charge of steeling sheep, the property of Thomas Shoemaker. Both the plaintiff and defendant are butchers, and of good reputation, dealing in the city markets. The charge is a serious one, and the case will be thorough. ly investigated, in order that if the charge is without foundation, it may not affect Mr. Merling's reputation. Justice Thompson held Mr. Merling to bail for further hearing on Monday

RELIGIOUS .- We understand that, on Sunday next, quarterly meetings of the Methodist Episcopal Church will take place at the venerable Foundry and at West Georgetown Churches; and that there will be a quarterly Love-Feast this evening at Ryland Chapel There is at the present time an unusual degree of religious interest in several denominations

TREASURY REGIMENT .- This splefidid regiment is making grand preparations for the promenade concert they will give on next Monday night, at Ford's theatre. The tickets for that occasion are being taken very rapidly, and by the most fashionable portion of the community. It promises to be a first-class concert in every respect, so get your partners in time, and be on hand.

LARCENY CASES .- This morning the follow: ing cases were disposed of by Justice Thompson: Silas J, Gould, a soldier, was arrested by officer Leach, for stealing a pistol from a boy and passing it to others. Gould was sent to

GRAND LEVER AND BALL .- Chippewa Tribe No 9, Improved Order of Red Men, will give a grand levee and ball at Temperance Hall, E street, on Tuesday evening next. The arrangements in progress for this occasion indicate a
